MESSAGE TO THE PUBLIC FROM THE CALIFORNIA WATER COLOR SOCIETY

Many of the great artists of history have mastered the fascinating difficulties of water color painting because of the sheer beauty which it affords. Many others have wished they might be so fortunate.

In all the arts there are those who would place academic limitations upon the manner, or use of a medium. Then along comes benius to dash aside these limitations and bring forth beauty to rebirth in all its pristine freshness. Beauty is a living essence which cannot and must not be drugged to sleep by the arbitrary predjudice of man. Beauty will always free itself in bursts of new genius as we have observed through history.

It is to encourage freedom of beauty in water color painting, and to foster individual expression among the artists that the California Water Color Society strives to be liberal to all comers. Sincerity and beauty are the two things we look for in work submitted.

We urge the public to buy the work where there is evidence of inspiration. By so doing they will enrich themselves with a possession that has enduring worth and at the same time they will aid and encourage a true seeker for beauty.
